Breidenbach – centre for business with vision

The centre for trade and industry in the region

Located amidst huge forests, natural fields and pastures, the region around Breidenbach offers fantastic leisure activities and a high quality of life close to nature, as well as secure jobs and a number of education and training opportunities.

The core community of Breidenbach is a well-developed attractive industrial location. The community, comprising some 7,000 inhabitants, is the region's centre for a lot of medium-sized companies.

The large West industrial area, which is also home to Buderus Guss, guarantees plenty of jobs.

Some 2,700 people work in Breidenbach. The community is keen to continue to maintain a high number of jobs in the future, which has led to the opening of a new business park in the district of Oberdieten.

Its large number of shopping and leisure opportunities have laid the foundation for droves of people from all over Germany choosing to make this region their home.

The twisted tower of the evangelical church is the main landmark in Breidenbach.
